Soulful Seeds

Soulful Seeds is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit dedicated to growing and providing fresh food to those in need in the Reno/Sparks area. They are dedicated to providing those in need with healthy food and an opportunity to learn and support others.

Families experiencing housing insecurity were disproportionately affected by the economic impacts of COVID-19 due to the compounding impact of poverty and the social determinants of health that influence wellbeing. People belonging to minority groups experienced higher rates of COVID related illness and are the most severely impacted by hunger, poor food access, diet-related illness, and other problems related to the U.S. food system. This project works to address food insecurity in the region by empowering some of the most vulnerable populations to learn to grow their own food. Nevada Tomorrow estimates 15% of Washoe County residents are food insecure. Food insecurity and high rates of diet-related disease correlate with poverty, which disproportionately impacts people of color and households with children. According to Feeding America, a national foodbank network, the rate of food insecurity for African-American households is more than double that of white households, while one in five Latinos are food insecure- compared with one in ten whites. Furthermore, 7.1% of seniors experienced hunger in 2019, and of those accessing food banks, 63% said they had to choose between food and medical care.

The Our Place Soulful Seeds Garden is located at the intersection of Census Tract 21.07 (Qualified Census Tract) and 31.11 (not a qualified census tract). It serves homeless women and children living on the Our Place Campus. An overview of 2021 campus resident demographics are as follows: 59% have a physical or cognitive disability, 91% have a behavioral health disorder, 29% belong to a minority racial or ethnic population, and 28% are chronically homeless. When Soulful Food has a surplus food, they distribute to St. Francis of Assisi (Census Tract 9) and Saint Paul's Episcopal Church in Sparks (Census Tract 19.02). Both are located in and serve qualified census tracts.

The goal of the program is to alleviate the economic impact of COVID on households experiencing housing insecurity and residing on the Our Place Campus by providing residents with access to naturally grown produce and programming on-site.

This subgrant includes retroactive expenses to assist the organizations with costs incurred since January 2022 that have been necessary to carry out the development of the garden.
