BACKGROUND

Early voting has become increasingly popular with voters. Approximately 50% of Washoe County's voters who turn out, now choose to vote early. Each election cycle, the Registrar seeks to meet the demand for early voting by supplying an adequate number of locations that will allow voters in each geographical area of the community to access a location near their home or place of work.

FISCAL IMPACT

Early voting's costs are dependent upon the number of locations and hours of operation per election. Typically, early voting for a Primary Election will cost approximately $125,000 and for a General Election will cost between $150,000 and $175,000. These expenses are currently allowed for in the Registrar of Voters election budget, C112210.
