This year's award will continue to focus on fostering relationships through the delivery of peer support with the objective of helping parents and caregivers develop parenting skills; offering support in improving services; mentoring and supporting struggling parents and caregivers; providing support and encouragement in coping with stress, managing and adjusting to reunification, assessing community resources, providing a strong and stable environment, and behavior management.

Retroactive approval is requested as the Human Services Agency received the Amendment from Casey Family Programs on December 29, 2025.
