Reason for request:

We are in the process of designing a home to be built on the east end of our 5-acre parcel in Washoe Valley, Nevada. We will be using the easement off of Bobo Lane, which is located on the east end of our parcel, as access to our future residence.

There are 3 Tree Farm Road accesses in this one general area of west Washoe Valley; one off Serviceberry Road, one off Old 395 and one off of Bobo Lane. Google Maps names 2 of these accesses Tree Farm Road and the HuntOnX app shows all 3 named Tree Farm Road. Per a conversation with Wayne Handrock from the Washoe County Regional Street Directory Department, according to their records, this said easement remains unnamed. To alleviate confusion for delivery drivers, USPS, Amazon, UPS, emergency vehicles, public utilities, guests using Google Maps to locate our residence, or the sanitation company, we are requesting a permanent name change to the easement on the east end of our parcel. This easement is approximately 600 yards long stretching north to south and intersects on the south end with Lonesome Polecat Rd and at the north end with Bobo Lane. There is no access from Lonesome Polecat Rd to this easement. The only access is from Bobo Lane off Old 395.
